

The perfect combination.

AVOCO™ represents the combining of two great entities with one common goal. Primor Produce and Southern Produce, the exclusive marketer of the Team Avocado Trust, have recently joined forces to create one focussed export operation, working together to create better results for their growers.

The respective aim of each company has always been to do “what’s best” for their growers. And through AVOCO™, a collection of the most experienced marketers in the Avocado industry, real grunt has been added to the marketing plan, creating an even stronger focus on the existing and emerging markets going forward.

Join with AVOCO™, and experience better results through working together.

Better results through working together.
